

MIQO'TE

The Miqo'te are a humanoid race with feline characteristics that immigrated to Eorzea during the Age of Endless Frost, a time when the seas turned to ice and passage over them became possible. Since their arrival, the Miqo'te have diverged into two physically distinguishable groups: the diurnal Seekers of the Sun and the nocturnal Keepers of the Moon.

The miqo'te have diverged into two separate ethnicities: the Seekers of the Sun and the Keepers of the Moon. While the diurnal Seekers of the Sun worship Azeyma the Warden with their culture revolving around the sun, the nocturnal Keepers of the Moon prefer the shroud of night and offer their piety to Menphina the Lover. The Keepers of the Moon have a custom of applying war paint to their faces, as it is believed the vivid colors grant lunar powers.

Comparatively few in number, miqo'te maintain an insular mentality within their clans, tending to avoid contact with the other races. Many individuals lead isolated lifestyles, even when living in the more populous cities.

The Seekers are widely regarded as quick-witted and prone to action, and many bore easily. The Keepers are known for their reticent and brooding personalities, but are also respected and sometimes feared for their tenacity.

Their natural dexterity and quick wit makes them outstanding archers and pugilists.

MIQO'TE TRAITS

Your miqo'te character shares a number of common traits with all other miqo'te.

Ability Score Increase. Your Dexterity score increases by 2.

Alignment. Miqo'te are lean towards chaos. However, they have an insular mentality within their clans, tending to avoid contact with other races.

Size. Your size is Medium.

Speed. Your base walking speed is 30 feet.

Acrobat. You have proficiency in the Acrobatics skill.

Keen Senses. You have proficiency in the Perception skill.

Miqo'te Weapon Training. You have proficiency with the javelin, shortbow, shortsword, and spear.

Languages. You can speak, read, and write, Common and Miqo'te.

Subrace. There are two subraces of miqo'te, the Seekers of the Sun and the Keepers of the Moon. Choose one of these subraces.

SEEKER OF THE SUN

The self-proclaimed Seekers of the Sun are the diurnal clan of the Miqo'te race. Their preference for the warm light of day pervades all aspects of their culture, as is apparent in their devout reverence for Azeyma, the Warden, goddess of the sun.

Though relatively few in Eorzea, a small number of them have been accepted into everyday life by the other races in the port city of Limsa Lominsa. Others are known to make their home in the region of the Sagolii Desert.

In addition to the shared miqo'te traits above, Seekers of the Sun have the following racial traits:

Ability Score Increase. Your Constitution score increases by 1.

Fleet of Foot. Your base walking speed increases to 35 feet.

KEEPER OF THE MOON

The nocturnal among the Miqo'te have dubbed themselves the Keepers of the Moon. Shying from the garish light of day, they revel in the shroud of night, with most offering their piety to Menphina, the Lover, goddess of the moon.

Their tradition of hunting in the thick woodlands of the Black Shroud have for years thrown them into conflict with the forestfolk of Gridania, who condemn them as poachers. Of late, however, many Keepers of the Moon have found some small peace with the Gridanians, and taken to living within the city.

In addition to the shared miqo'te traits above, Keepers of the Moon have the following racial traits:

Ability Score Increase. Your Wisdom score increases by 1.

Darkvision. Accustomed to twilight forests and the night sky, you have superior vision in dark and dim conditions. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light. You can't discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.
